Synopsis

Many parents often spent huge amount of money in their children's education and enrichment but many parents do not know exactly what to invest in and how to choose courses that are relevant to the developmental needs of their children. Some parents thought that by sending their children to enrichment centers is enough to groom their children. Unfortunately, parenting and providing education to our children requires a lot more knowledge and commitment than that. What knowledge should parents be equipped with to meet the requirements of the 21st Century? This facilitative workshop provides parents with an insight to the holistic development of their children and the type of knowledge they should be equipped with to meet the challenge. This session will focus on common transition issues that students faced when they transit from Primary to Secondary schools.

Are the approaches of drilling and driving for results still relevant in Secondary schools? What other behavioral and emotional support are required by your children during this important milestone of their life? Come join us in this three hour session to find out more on transition issues in teenagers
